

Many factors impact our health.

Economic Stability

People with steady employment are less likely to live in poverty and more likely to be healthy.

Social and Community Context

Social support and positive relationships at home, at work, and in the community improve health and well-being.

Education Access and Quality

People with higher levels of education are more likely to be healthier and live longer.

Neighborhood and Built Environment

To be as healthy as possible, people need to live in safe neighborhoods with resources like clean air and water and areas to be active.

Health Care Access and Quality

Increased access to quality health care and better communication with health professionals can help people stay healthy.

We can create a world where everyone has the opportunity to be as healthy as possible. Learn more at www.cdc.gov/health-equity.

Reference: www.health.gov/healthypeople/priority-areas/social-determinants-health

